PAUL PARMELEE RECITAL AT USD

FEBRUARY 24

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

San Diego, California

Paul Parmelee, pianist, will perform in concert at the University of San Diego's Camino Theatre on Sunday, February 24 at 4 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Since his successful New York debut in 1963, Paul Parmelee has appeared extensively in concerts throughout the United States as soloist and chamber music artist. He has also played concerti with a number of the nation's leading and community orchestras, including the Chicago, Rochester and Denver Symphonies, and has been much in demand for lectures, master classes and workshops.

Born in Chicago, Parmelee studied there for twelve years at the American Conservatory of Music where he received intensive training in theory, counterpoint and composition as well as piano. Later he was a student at the Eastman School of Music, and recipient of a Bachelor of Music degree. Following graduate study at Julliard and the University of Colorado, he earned the degree Doctor of Music from Florida State University in 1960.

He is at present Professor of Music at the University of Colorado at Boulder, and visiting the University of San Diego on sabbatical.

Parmelee's solo program will include "Sonata in C Major, No. 60" by Haydn, "Italian Concerto" by Bach, and "Sonata in A Major, D959" by Schubert.
